01 / THE BUSINESS CASE

The calls you forget are still time you worked.

Keep a reliable record of short calls as well as scheduled meetings.

Short conversations, ad hoc meetings and reconnects can disappear from a month-end timesheet. CallTally keeps the call-time record for you.

ILLUSTRATIVE OPPORTUNITY

₹32,500

At ₹5,000 per hour, two missed 15-minute calls a week add up to ₹32,500 over a 13-week quarter.

Set up once. Keep taking your calls.

01 Install and choose your account

Install on Windows and choose your Google or Microsoft account. No administrator rights are required.

02 Let call-time capture run

Timing starts when a supported call opens your microphone. CallTally starts with Windows and restarts if interrupted.

03 Review and prepare the bill

Calendar details, attendee email or phone numbers match calls to clients. Review client matches and charges before sharing the bill.

02 / BILLING THAT FITS YOUR PRACTICE

Your clients. Your billing rules.

Bring call records, client rates and billing exports into one workflow.

Rates and currencies

Set an hourly rate and billing currency for each client.

Rounding and minimums

Apply agreed rounding, such as 15-minute increments, and a minimum charge per call.

Reconnects handled together

Dropped and rejoined calls are merged so the minimum charge is applied once.

Branded billing exports

Export Excel or PDF records with your logo, showing the calls, participants and charges.

A clearer view of your time

Review billed hours by client, month and app, alongside your effective hourly rate.

One record across computers

Combine activity from your laptop and desktop. Choose the client time zone used for monthly billing.

FROM CONVERSATION TO BILL

Call time → Client match → Billing rules → Export

Illustrative workflow. Billing amounts depend on captured time, client matching and the rules you configure.

03 / PRIVACY AND COMPATIBILITY

It times calls. It does not record them.

CallTally captures call metadata rather than audio or message content.

A record of time, not a recording

The record includes the app, call start and end, duration and participants. Audio and message text are not captured.

Your own sync storage

Call history syncs through a private folder in your Google Drive or OneDrive, rather than through CallTally's servers.

The account you choose

Choose the connected account. Calls from other Google accounts on the same computer are kept out of that account's billing record.

Protected access

An encrypted phone link, signed updates and sign-in tokens protected by your Windows login are built into the product.

Windows desktop

Windows 10 or 11, plus a Google or Microsoft account.

Android, when needed

An Android phone is required for phone calls and mobile WhatsApp calls. iPhone call capture is not supported.

Call channels

Zoom, Microsoft Teams, Google Meet, WhatsApp, Slack and Webex, alongside supported Android calls.

04 / GET STARTED

Keep your attention on the conversation.

CallTally takes care of the time record. You stay responsible for reviewing the bill and agreeing charges with your client.

For individual professionals

Consultants and advisors can keep a more complete record of client conversations across their working day.

For teams and companies

Company licences support a consistent approach to call-time tracking and client billing.

A 14-day free trial

All features are included, with no card required to start. Request trial access from Gramin Kriti Technologies.

Keep access to your history

If you stop, your recorded history remains readable and downloadable.
